The church is a beautiful structure, and among some of its ornate features is the art glass window representing "Christ Blessing Children," donated by the children of the parish and their friends, copied from Plöckhorst's famous picture, with an original adaptation of the figure of Christ blessing. Also the rose window, designed in grapes and wheat, symbolic of Christ's sacrifice, the border in cherub heads, some being copies of photographs of deceased children of parishioners. Among these are Edgar Lang, Mabel Lawrence, Mamie Hermann and Thomas Masterson.

RUN OVER BY SWITCH ENGINE AND KILLED.

Yesterday (Wednesday) morning J. S. Cummins was run over by a switch engine at Bonne Terre and killed. He was taking the engine in to get a passenger coach to go out on the 9:25 train, and started to swing off the engine just before it got to the coach. The gauntlet of his glove caught on the guard and he was thrown under the wheels, which passed over him, cutting off his left leg and arm, breaking his back and his right arm and right leg. He was taken to the hospital and died in about two hours. Dr. English was called and held an inquest over the body.

A MODEL LITTLE THEATRE.

The remodeling of Amusement Theatre, which has been underway for some weeks, is nearing completion. The transformation is not only artistic in effect, but convenience and comfort were taken well into account. On entering its doors the first thing that attracts one's attention is a beautiful drop curtain to the stage, or if this be raised, a delightful array of bright stage scenery; and as the eyes are lowered the rows of opera chairs, 200 of them, of 5-ply veneer in rich mahogany shade, invite you to be seated and make yourself comfortable. The distance from floor to ceiling near the stage is about 25 feet, with ventilating windows high up on the sides. It is the intention to put in a metal ceiling with ventilators also in it. Passing on to the stage and turning around one sees the balcony, which extends well over the auditorium from the front, with seats raised in tiers to seat about 225 persons, making the seating capacity of this cozy little theatre about 600. The side walls are also painted, and the management intends to relieve the bareness of the walls with appropriate pictures. A cozy little reception or waiting room has been arranged in front of the theatre to the right of the box office, and altogether the Amusement is a model play and moving picture house. Mr. M. W. Williams, the manager, is entitled to much credit for the enterprise that lies behind this transformation.—Advertisement.

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION.

The enterprising citizens of Irondale, Washington county, have recently perfected a good roads organization under the name of the Concord Township Improvement Association, with James P. Ward president; Dr. J. P. Yeargain, secretary; J. C. O'Neal, treasurer; Claude A. Eaton, chairman of the finance committee, and a vice president from each school district in the township. This is the first organization of its kind in the county and the good results from it have already been manifested. The road to the St. Francois county line has been surveyed towards Frankelay, and connection with the Arcadia auto highway is only a matter of a few weeks.
